

Caroline's 100-Day Celebration 李詠怡百日宴

September 7, 2018

Welcome

In Chinese tradition, we celebrate with our closest friends and family when a newborn has reached 100 days. We have been blessed with the love and support of all of you. For those of you who have not been to a Chinese banquet, the dishes are served family style and there are a lot of them. So make sure to pace yourself!

Party Favors

In addition to a 100-day celebration, it's traditional to give red egg and ginger to guests. Red is a lucky color, eggs symbolize birth, and ginger promotes health. For our spin on the tradition, we are giving you a jar of homemade soap. Each piece is colored red, egg shaped, and infused with ginger scent!

Cold Appetizer Platter – 錦繡大拼盤
A plate of squid, jellyfish, beef shank, and shrimp dumplings.
Hot Appetizer Plate – 牛肉串, 鍋貼, 春卷
Beef skewers, pan-fried dumplings, and pork & shrimp spring rolls. Served in place of cold appetizers for tables with young guests.
Crispy Fried Shrimp Ball – 炸蝦球
Minced shrimp shaped into a ball, battered, and fried.
West Lake-Style Beef Soup – 西湖牛肉羹
Chopped beef served in a chicken broth mixed with cornstarch and egg whites.
Walnut Shrimp in Mayonnaise Sauce – 西汁合桃蝦
Shrimp in slightly sweet mayonnaise sauce served with candied walnuts and broccoli.
Crispy Chicken – 當紅炸子雞
Lightly fried chicken served with shrimp chips.
Lobster Thai-style – 泰式龍蝦
Lobster seasoned with Thai spices.
Fish Fillet in XO Sauce – XO醬 炒魚片
Fish served in a slightly spicy sauce. Be careful of any bones that may be present!
Crispy Eggplant – 脆皮茄子
Lightly fried eggplant with a vegetarian savory sauce.
Snow Peas Leaves – 豆苗
Snow pea leaves stir fried with garlic.
Kingdom Pork Chop – 京都排骨
Small cuts of pork ribs in a sweet tangy sauce. The 骨 literally means bones – so watch out for bones in the ribs!
Stir Fried Yee-Fu Noodles – 伊府麵
Egg noodles sautéed with vegetables. Traditionally served for birthdays, long noodles represent the hope of long life.
Almond Cookie and Coconut Gelatin – 美點雙輝
Light traditional Chinese desserts
